"The Future Of
Rotary Is In Your Hands" and with those words by
John Kenny,
Rotary International

President , the theme and emphasis for the 2009-2010 Rotary year are before you. In Kenny's mind, every Rotarian and every club are the important elements for a successful year. "If that chain is to continue, every link must be strong, says Kenny. "It is our responsibility, yours and mine, to forge solid links to Rotary's future." "We see ourselves as part of a great Rotary tradition," said Kenny, "as links in a chain joining our future to our past."

From The Governor

It is an high honor to serve as District Governor for for this year. I understand the rich heritage of Rotary and look forward with anticipation as we mold the future in our clubs in this great district. I am excited to know that I will have the opportunity to fellowship with over 2600 Rotarians in our district as I travel and I look forward to renewing friendships and making new acquaintances.

I also look forward to hearing the wonderful stories from Rotarians across our district , relating many examples of Service Above Self. I am asking our Rotarians to dare to be different this year, to do something as a individual and a club you have never done before as we mold the future.

Pease make note of the Strategic Plan, seven priorities that set the course for a strong future:

- Eradicating Polio
  - Our # 1 goal.
- Public Image of Rotary
  - Build our local and national reputation.
- Capacity To Serve
  - Focus on water, health and hunger, and literacy and give a little more time, talent and enthusiasm all all four Avenues of Service.
- Expanding quality membership
  - only Rotarians have the ability to increase our numbers by inviting guests to join their club.
- Commitment to Vocational Service
  - distinguishes Rotary from other service and humanitarian organizations.
- Optimizing leadership talents
  - All Rotarians are leaders in their businesses and professions; let us be leaders in Rotary as well.
- Ensuring Continuity
  - leads to smooth transitions during annual changes of leadership.
